keep every thing, and persons wishing an outfit for house keeping call on us and find in our store-rooms almost every article necessary for house keeping from a rolling pin up to a sugar cured ham. Table ware, glass, &c., &c. Then they want FURNITURE, consequently, we have been induced to keep always on hand a well selected stock of plain FURNITURE, not calculating from the proceeds of profits, but from the fact that a complete outfit, can be purchased at our house, at lower keeping, for less the purchase, from much trouble and many small bills—have for the accommodation of our customers recently enlarged our furniture room, and can now, and will in future, offer all the furniture to all wishing to purchase—provided lowest figures be an inducement. ## DISUNION THREATENED.—CASSIUS M.

Clay has written a very fiery and mistimed letter to the New York Tribune laying down the programme of the future operations of the anti-slavery party. Abolitionism has grown magnificently rampant since the repeal of the Missouri Compromise and disunion and civil war have become its household words. It lately had a taste of blood in the murder of Batchelder of Boston, and like the tigers first lap, it seems so marvelously sweet, that more must flow to gratify the insatiable thirst. The programme of policy as laid down by this last letter of Cassius Clay, if acted on and carried out, would end in the wildest anarchy to our beloved land. It is certainly the coolest attempt to bring about a dissolution of the Union that has ever come under our ken. Just read it.

Sir: When some years ago I had the honor to reply to an invitation of a portion of the members of the New York Legislature to address them upon the slavery question, I was thought by many a fanatic because I avowed that it was not a question about the African, but whether we ourselves should be free men or slaves. Since then what is there sacred in the Constitution, in treaties, in laws, in guarantees of liberty, which has not been desecrated?

And now at last those "Compromises" by which so many of us were humbugged—which were exalted above the "higher law" of revelation and conscience, are themselves trampled under foot—and by the repeal of the Missouri restriction, by revolutionary means, a continent lies in the dust at the feet of the Slaveholders!

Thus far our republicanism is a failure. Shall we give up the ship? Shall we return as the dog to his vomit, and clothe ourselves once more in the cast-off rags of despotism, admitting ourselves incapable of self-government and national existence?

For my part, though sad—and very sad, I am not despondent. Let us use the reason God has given us to remedy the past, and make secure the future. The violation of God's laws is always wrong. We committed a national crime in joining hands with the slaveholders to commit a determined wrong against the rights of the African, and now in this season the poisoned chalice is returned to our own lips.

I am not prepared to say with the Garrisonians that we are to break away at once by revolution from this criminal alliance; but I do say that our only salvation, because the only true repentance, is in making the overthrow of Slavery our dominant idea.

This one idea of the slaveholders which overrides all principles and measures is the rule of Slavery. So must be met, not by a general not occasionally—not compromisingly, but by the friends of liberty, but with a oneness of purpose, and viracity and fanaticism of will equal to theirs.

Does any man believe that in a fair contest between Liberty and Slavery the wrong will triumph? I do not.

What then shall be done? 1. In the first place, punish the traitors, as an example for all future times. I honestly believe that every man of the free States who voted for the repeal of the Missouri restriction deserves death! But there is no legal way of inflicting the penalty—the halter then they must escape. But one thing can be done—break them on the wheel of opinion. Let no man deal with them in business—banish them from the social circle, and disfranchise them practically forever! This seems hard, but the race of traitors must die before we can live.

2. Let the elections, even for the most inferior offices, turn upon the repeal of the Nebraska bill, or its amendment, so that the people of the Territory shall have the unequal right to vote Slavery out. To do this, the free trader must give up his Free trade—the tariff man, his tariff—manufacturers, shipping, internal improvement, temperance, schools, and the rest of the present, be held in abeyance, for the one great question, shall America be free or slave?

3. Although I think Free Democracy are best based to achieve the end, we must tolerate and recognize all parties who will aid, as allies. In a Congressional District where the Free Democrats have a supposed larger force, let the Whigs and Democrats renounce the Free Democratic ticket. And where the Whigs of Democrats have a supposed larger force, let the Free Democrats renounce the Whig or Democratic ticket; so as to defeat the services of all parties. In the Presidential Nominating Convention, let a delegate be sent from each Congressional District in the Union, of that party which the Congressmen, and let them vote a common candidate. Such a candidate, thus nominated, can, in my opinion, be elected triumphantly in 1860. Let that candidate, whether Benton, Seward, or Hale, or any other good citizen, be chosen without regard to his location in a Free or Slave State. For our party is truly national—theirs sectional!

4. Let us count the cost. All are, I imagine, now convinced that the extreme South is anticipating the dissolution of this American Union, and have been and now are using the nation all the time for their own ultimate aggrandizement. We must therefore calculate what is to be the result of our success. Suppose then a Republican elected President, on the issue above stated, and that the enemies of the South in the madhouse overtake the more thoughtful citizens, and secede from Congress, and declare the Union dissolved. Then either we must whip them in, or allow a peaceable separation as circumstance shall warrant. If we fight her, we have the advantage of being the Government de facto. We have the organization—the treasury—the navy, and the army. If victorious, we could compel emancipation. If defeated, we would be abundantly able to maintain our national Western Virginia, Kentucky, and Mississippi, (which would probably unite with us) annexed, we would form a more powerful people than even now.

In such event all the central-portion of North America would be ours, and should Northern Mexico prefer our alliance, as she no doubt would, as cotton grows upon all sorts of soils in a given latitude, we would even be able to raise abundantly able to maintain our national Western Virginia, Kentucky, and Mississippi, (which would probably unite with us) annexed, we would form a more powerful people than even now.

Under the railroad system, we have less need to regard boundaries by mountains and water-courses, and even in that respect the lakes, the St. Lawrence, and the Columbia, to us would be what the Mississippi is now. While the oceans would wash on our northeast and west, we could well bid our time to expand our dominions over the feeble masters of the South to the Gulf of Mexico.

But the probabilities are that the South would see her only safety in the Union, and "acquiesce" in the "manifest destiny" of the triumph of human rights, and begin in earnest to clear himself of Slavery. Till then we would become peaceably a homogeneous people, and Liberty and Union be forever established.

But I have already made this letter too long. For myself I am ready to sacrifice the sacrifice and triumph of our fathers of 1776 at all hazards. I am for no Union without Liberty—it need be through dissolution and war. "I stand by the declaration," trusting ever, till Republicanism is vindicated and the liberties of mankind achieved.

Very respectfully, your friend, C. M. CLAY.

Gen. Cass.—According to all accounts Gen. Cass achieved a brilliant oratorical triumph on the night of the passage of the Nebraska bill. He spoke, as our readers already know, in reply to Mr. Benton. A private letter says of it: "It was in manner and matter the most effective satire I ever listened to." A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes:

"At 10 o'clock last evening, Gen. Cass rose and spoke about three quarters of an hour in favor of the passage of the bill. The usually grave and severe statesman—the votary of Ohio, the muse of history—on this occasion snatched a grace from Thalia, the comic of the Nine, and with inimitable wit, humor and satire, dissected Col. Benton's speech delivered in the House against the bill. Though exhausted by a ten hour's session, Senators crowded around the veteran statesman, and loudly cheered and clapped him; the ladies and gentlemen in the gallery joining chorus in this scene of mirth and rejoicing. The Senate was electrified, and peals of laughter were soon followed by the peals of cannon at the passage of the bill."

The Washington Union says in reference to it:

The veteran Senator from Michigan spoke on Thursday night in the Senate, in favor of the Nebraska bill, with a vigor worthy of his best days. His allusions to the course and to the argument of Col. Benton, on the same question, were distinguished not only by rare eloquence, but in point of genuine humor and good temper have rarely been equalled even in that eminent body of statesmen. He recalled the earlier, and may we not say, the better days of the Republic, and proved, by his devotion to a great principle, and by his fearless criticism upon one who had gone out from his old friends to unite with his former enemies, how ardently he cherished the party of the constitution. Never before has the gallant and learned Senator from Michigan proved himself more worthy of the affectionate confidence of the democracy of the Union. We hope to publish his speech in a few days.

A style of hats called the "Wide Awake," has lately come in vogue. The New York Adas says they are so solid because they have no nap on them, and, therefore, must be wide awake.

BROKE JAIL.—We learn that three negroes and a white man, who was sentenced to be hung on the 17th inst., escaped from the jail in Versailles, on Tuesday night, by knocking down the watchman with a billet of wood. The white man was taken the next morning, but the negroes are still at large.

FRED DOUGLASS FOR CONGRESS.—A correspondent of the Syracuse Standard, writing from Rochester, New York, says that 'Fred' Douglass, the negro, is to be brought out for Congress in the Monroe district, N. Y., and expresses the opinion he will be elected.

THE CHOLERA.—There has been great fatality from this disease in portions of Rutherford county, Tenn. In Nashville it has greatly abated.

Court of Appeals.

(Reported for the Tri-Weekly Freeman, by JAMES MONROE, Attorney at Law, Frankfort, Ky.)
TOWNS vs COMMONWEALTH—Judgt. Franklin.

Judge Crenshaw in the case held—"That the mere fact, that in the absence of the defendant, the clerk in his store, gave the liquor to the slave, does not authorize the conclusion that it was given with the approbation and consent of the defendant."

Judgment reversed.

COMMONWEALTH vs KAMP—Judgt. Nelson (2 cases).
Chief Justice Hise—Held—"That a license granted in general terms, by virtue of the 99th chapter, Revised Statutes, to keep a tavern, gives the tavern keeper authority to vend spirituous liquors in the bar-room or tavern to his guests or others, in any quantity, to be drunk in the tavern or elsewhere—without incurring the penalty prescribed by article 4, chapter 99, page 663, Rev. Stat., sec. 1 and 2."

That so much of the act of December 13th, 1851 as provides that a license to keep a tavern merely, shall confer no authority to retail liquor, is virtually repealed. By the chapter above, Vallandigham vs Commonwealth decided since contains same doctrine.

Judgments affirmed.

COMMONWEALTH vs MORGAN—Judgt. Morgan.

The 10th section, 3 article of the constitution vests the Governor with power to remit fines and forfeitures—and prohibits him from remitting the fees of a Commonwealth Attorney, &c. in penal or criminal cases.

The 28th chapter, 1st article, section 24th of the Revised Statutes, page 247 allows Commonwealth's Attorneys 20 per cent. of all judgments on forfeited recognizances in favor of the Commonwealth.

Morgan was recognized for felony—the recognizance was forfeited—scire facias issued against him and his sureties—the Governor remitted the forfeiture as to the sureties—who having pleaded the same in the court below, that court sustained the plea.

The question is, has the Governor the power, under the above clause of the constitution, and of the Revised Statutes to remit the forfeiture?

Crenshaw, Justice—Held—"That the Commonwealth's Attorneys had no fee to be affected by the remission, therefore no judgment—hence the Governor did not transcend his power in remitting the forfeiture, nor the court below err in sustaining the plea of the sureties setting up that remission."

Judgment affirmed.

BOWMAN vs COMTH—Judgt. Marion—The question in this case is—Whether the county Judge has power to take a recognizance in a criminal case under the Rev. Statutes?

Crenshaw—Justice—Held—"That though it be conceded that the 10th sec. of the act of March 11th 1851 conferred on county Judges the power to take recognizances in criminal as well as penal cases, yet that section is repealed by the Rev. Statutes."

It is however contended that the said 10th sec. is excepted from repeal by the 5th exemption in the Rev. Statutes, which reads that "Statutes regulating proceedings in civil and criminal and penal cases not repealed by the Code of Practice or Rev. Statutes," are excepted. The court say that the said 10th sec. in no way regulates proceedings in civil criminal and penal cases and cannot therefore be construed as coming within the exception above.

The court further say that the power of the county Judge is confined within the limits of the grant contained in the 17th art. of the Rev. Statutes page 232—which is, to hold a court of inquiry in conjunction with a Justice of the Peace, and take a recognizance—He has no right to do so alone, therefore the recognizance in this case is void.

Judgt. reversed with directions to dismiss the scire facias.

COMMONWEALTH vs Mary Allen—Judgt. Meade.—This is an indictment for keeping a tippling house which contains no allegations that Deft had no license which authorized her to sell spirituous liquors.

Court below quashed the indictment.—The question is as to the necessity of an averment in such an indictment that deft kept the tippling house without a license.

The question is made under the Rev. Stat. The chapter on Taverns, Tippling houses &c., page 663 reads as follows: "Any person unless he shall have a license therefor, who shall sell in any quantity wine &c., &c., or the mixture of either, in any house to be drunk therein, or on or adjacent to the premises where sold, or shall sell the same and it shall be so drunk shall be deemed guilty of keeping a tippling house and find the sum of sixty dollars."

Suttons—Justice—Held—"That it is the act of selling, under the circumstances mentioned in the act, without a license, that constitutes the offense—[see act 1831 imposing a fine of $50 in addition to the $10 imposed by a former statute, upon unlicensed houses under which in the case of Comth v McBoys 3 Dana 70 this court decided that it was necessary in the indictment to charge that the deft had no license.]

That as an additional reason why the averment, made, is, that there is another class of cases where a party may be proceeded against for keeping a tippling house, to-wit where his license has been suspended, for the cause named in the same chad Rev. Stat. and it is therefore proper he should be advised of the nature of these offenses charged.

The indictment is insufficient without such averment—Judgment affirmed.

If you want to serve humanity effectively, don't commence by sending tracts that are never read, and flannel shirts that are never worn, to Africa; but help the needy around you. If there are any old maids about, get them husbands; if poor, give them money; if widows, console them; if pretty girls, please them; if suffering, relieve them; if pagans, preach the true word; stir them up, turn, twist, fry, boil, stew or cook them into something christian and good. After that look out for the heathen and other folks in 'foreign parts.'

LP The Baton Rouge Gazette has had the temerity to print in that paper a communication sent him by the 'Know Nothings,' as there may be a member or members of the body in our community, we give it for his or their benefit without note or comment. It reads thus:

"OLZE! ADVIZDZ: PH—BAHS, LSSFIq uezi uel lInFGUeUMWhXmDe GFHF!"

There may be a heap of meaning in it although it don't look attractive.

AN AMERICAN VOLUNTEER IN TURKEY.—The N. Y. Courier and Enquirer publishes a letter from an American volunteer in the Turkish army, written from Kars, Asia Minor, under date of April 14, to a friend in Constantinople. The writer appears to entertain a very poor opinion of the Turks. After giving a description of the condition of the troops stationed at Kars, who he says, are 'badly clad, badly officered, and not fed at all,' he proceeds as follows.

Every day I am shown more and more that the cause of the Turks is utterly hopeless; indeed, they only deserve to be beaten. I blush to confess it, but I hope the next mail may bring news of peace, otherwise we are hopelessly lost, and should the Turks be defeated not a Christian will remain alive, for they now place so much confidence in them that a defeat would be considered their fault, and we should be massacred to a man. You wanted a true statement of affairs in the army, and here it is. I came here full of enthusiasm, but I have lost it entirely. Apathetic, indolent and false, these people are undeserving of our sympathies. The Government has no credit here; the other day I took an order to the forage master from Gen. G. for forage for my horse, but he would not accept it.

The baker has also refused further supplies of bread on credit. 'Let the Government pay me 12,000,000 piasters first.' * * * Our men are sick, and dying at the rate of sixteen and twenty every day. Of seventeen thousand five hundred men in Kars and villages around it, five hundred are in the Hospital with typhus fever. Everything shows that the army is doomed to destruction, and everything that I can see proves that the Turks deserve to be destroyed. I only regret that I ever embarked my sympathies in their cause.

ARRIVAL OF THE NIAGARA.

The Niagara arrived at Halifax with dates of 27 ult.

Milligan reports the sale of cotton for the week, 41,000 bales. Market dull; but at the close downward tendency checked. Sales to speculators were 2,000 bales; sales for export, 5,000 bales. Floor—Western canal and Ohio 93s 9d to 93s 10c. Corn 33s 8d.

Hunter says quotations for cotton are irregular and nominal. Prices declined 1-8 to 1-4; middle qualities and lower grades had declined most. Holders were pressing their stocks on the market, causing speculative purchases.

Manchester.—The trade in the manufacturing districts has largely declined since our last issue.

The commercial advices from India are regarded as unfavorable for manufactures.

Dennison reports the market for breadstuffs opened with a good demand, but it fell off at the close. The demand was fair at lower prices.

Flour.—The demand is moderate; prices decline 1s. per bush; Western canal 39s. 9d., Ohio 39s. 11d. Corn advanced 6d. per quarter. The demand is fair, holders are firm with moderate demand to the trade; white 43s. 6d., yellow and mixed 43s. 9d.

Gardiner reports pork unchanged and firm. Lard—All qualities largely declined.

Consols have advanced and are quoted at 89 3-4.

HAVE, May 24.—The cotton market has undergone no quotable change since our last. Sales for the week have been 9,000.

There is nothing deceptive from the seat of war. Negotiations have been resumed at Vienna.

ARRIVAL OF THE DANIEL WEBSTER.

NEW ORLEANS, May 6, P. M.

The Webster arrived at Balize on the 5th, at noon.

She brings two weeks later dates from California.

The passengers came through from San Francisco in nineteen days, and twenty hours. She reports the Star of the West sailed for New York on the 31st, with 250 passengers, and nearly a million and a half of treasury. The revolution in Nicaragua is reported to be successful.

The Webster will be up at 11 to-night.

We have later advices from the Sandwich Islands and Oregon, but they are unimportant.

Among the passengers on the Eldorado is Madame Pfeiffer, the celebrated German traveler.

The purser of the Daniel Webster report that the Mayor of San Juan had notified the American consul, his resignation and his total disavowal of the city governments.

Our latest dates from Grenada are that the revolutionists, under Junos and Castillon, had attacked the city, and probably captured it, and established a new government.

The George Law took on board 140,000 in treasure.

We have California dates to the 16th of May. The markets are quiet, and prices are tolerably sustained. Gallego & Haxall report flour at $11 to $12. Mess pork at $22. Rio coffee 12c.

A destructive fire occurred on the 12th, involving a loss of $140,000.

The screw steam ship, West Wind, was burned at Sandridge.

ARRIVAL OF THE ARCTIC.

NEW YORK, June 7.

The Arctic arrived. She brings dates to the 28th, one week later than the Asia.

The Russians are endeavoring to cut off communication between Varna and Silistia. The combined fleets were still crushing off Sebastopol. The Greek Bishop had been arrested at Pesh, as a Russian emissary, and important papers found on him.

There is a rebellion in Thessaly going on. It was rumored that the Russians, being unable to defend the seaboard at Caucasus, had returned to Kemptis. The Circassians came down and took 1500 prisoners.

McHenry quotes wheat and flour at 53s 3d 6d; Philadelphia and Baltimore 53s 6d 3d 3d.

News has arrived that the castle of Gustafsch, south of Hong and at the entrance of the Gulf of Finland, has been destroyed, and 1500 Russian taken prisoners on the 21st of May.

The facilities were to hold themselves in readiness for immediate service, and embark on the 29th instant, or thereabouts.

ARRIVAL OF THE HERMANN.

NEW YORK, June 8.

The Hermann arrived this morning with 240 passengers. Among them we notice the late U. S. consul to Australia and J. W. Bruce, bearer of dispatches.

She brings London papers of the 24th, which were not received by the Arctic. They state that Admiral Napier had destroyed, after eight hours bombardment, the fortress of Gustafsch, at the entrance of the Gulf of Finland, and fifteen hundred Russians were taken prisoners.

The British steamer Tiger was taken by the Russians, near Odessa, and was afterwards burnt.

The Paris correspondent says that the combined attack on Crimea, by sea and land, has been concluded on at Constantinople.

It is reported from Vienna that Russia has concluded treaties with Persia, Bokharra, and Kiva, and is to keep a force in those States.

A squadron of Spanish steamers is preparing at Cadix to sail for Cuba in July. The troops are to be landed in Cuba for the same destination.

The India overland mail brings Calcutta dates to April 20, China dates of March 10, and Australia to the 20th of same month.

The patriot army of China was advancing toward Peking.

It is reported that Commodore Perry has established friendly relations with Japan.

The yield of gold in Australia is increasing, and the markets were overstocked.

NEW YORK, June 8.

The Arctic brings Liverpool dates to the 29th, being one day later than by the Niagara.

The fur powers, England, France, Austria, and Prussia, have finally fully united, on the Eastern question, and against the Czar.

A letter from Hamburg contains the following account of the military forces of Russia in her Baltic provinces.—Beginning with the towns of Abo, Swaborg, Helsingfors, Borge, and Wiborg, in Finland, the total number of troops, by estimating it at 150,000 men, 30,000 of whom can, in case of need, be speedily concentrated on any point of Finland. I do not include in that number the new battalions formed at St. Petersburg since the guard has left that capital, and who, in a few days, can march to the very heart of the Grand Duchy of Finland. On the southern coast of the Baltic, where the commercial cities of Revel, Riga, Mitau, and Narva are situated, the effective force of the Russian army amounts to 45,000 men, of whom 25,000 may be in the course of eight or ten days, be assembled at one point. There is, besides, a corps of army of 30,000 men for the defence of Constantinople, one third of which may be detached, and marched to any part of the coast menaced by the allies.

A young gentleman at a ball in whisking about the room ran his head against a young lady. He began to apologize. 'Not a word, sir,' cried she, 'it is not hard enough to hurt any body.'

SINGULAR ATTACHMENT.—Upon Col. King's plantation, near this place, says the Montevideo Herald, there is a certain old gander, so attached to one of the milk cows that he follows her wherever she goes. He has been following at heels for several miles away from home never once permitting her to escape his sight. When caught and confined, he displays the greatest uneasiness, and never ceases his squalls until he finds the object of his devotion. The cow manifests little or no attention to the poor deluded fellow—a cruelty sufficient to break his constant heart. The gander holds no converse with the other geese, but passes them by with melancholy silence. He has been in this state a great while. We would like to have some learned one express their opinion, and endeavor to explain the mystery. From some of these movements we have been led to believe that he is a strong believer in spirit rappings.

We learn that much excitement has been caused in Anderson county, Ky. by the discovery of several noted counterfeiters and horse thieves, who have heretofore been regarded as honest citizens. A man named Redman was suspected of dealing in counterfeit money, and an attempt was made to have him arrested, but he barricaded his doors, and at last accounts was defying the authorities. A brother of Redman was shot by an officer, who attempted to arrest him, but failed. The Redmans live near Mt. Eden, in Anderson county. One of them is said to be the leader of a gang of daring counterfeiters, horse thieves and house breakers.

 REFERENCE AND CONSIGNMENT.—It is indeed a melan-truth, that thousands fall victims of Consumption year from no other cause than neglected colds; we find hundreds and thousands, who treat such complaints with the greatest indifference, and let them go for weeks, and even months, without thinking of their danger. At first, you have what you consider a cold, cough, cold, headache, sore throat, pleurisy, or some ailment to prevent you from giving any attention; it settles upon your breast, you become hoarse, have fits in the side or chest, expectorate large quantities of mucus, perhaps mixed with blood; difficulty of breathing ensues, and then you find your own foolish neglect has brought on this complaint. If, then, you lose your life or health, be warned in time, and do away your colds—bad immediately procure a bottle of that famous remedy Dr. Water's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which is well known to be the most speedy cure ever known; thousands will testify how lives have been saved by it.

My wife saved by the use of only three bottles of Wistar's Balm of Wild Cherry.

My dear Harcourt, Howard & Co.—Gentle—The Dr. Wistar's Balm of Wild Cherry, that I bought of you, has been of such signal benefit in my family, that I wish to make its virtues known for the benefit of the public.

My wife took cold at the time of her confinement, and settled on her Lungs. The physicians pronounced her disease consumption. She had profuse night sweats and bad coughs; and was given up, for we were without hope of recovery, and her child perished in her lap. She then commenced taking Wistar's Balm of Wild Cherry, and three bottles cured her.

Share with her, the child both.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Robert Sanderson, Juror of the Force in Rush Creek township, Fairfield county, Ohio, and brother of 'Major General Sanderson,' an officer in the war of 1812, cured
Consumption by the use of 'Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.'

Rush Creek township, Fairfield co.,
Feb. 25, 1851.

Dear Sir:—As I consider that my life has been greatly prolonged by my being cured of Consumption by the use of 'Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,' I will the symptom of my case, that others similarly affected may be induced to try this invaluable remedy. I experienced great difficulty in breathing; had the coldest fever, and was afflicted with frequent coughs, with severe pain in my side and lungs, and was unable to get up, and was very restless at night, and had great night sweats, perspiring, I should say, at least two gallons a night, wetting the bed completely. But I had not been able to work for years. But was much emaciated, and almost helpless when I commenced using Witt's Balm of Wild Cherry. I used it in all 13 bottles, and I am now free from all these complaints, for my health is good. I am 52 years of age, and have been in the army in India since 1846, because my health is so good as to require any medicine. But if I should have any recurrence of my former symptoms, I should use Witt's Balm of Wild Cherry. I procured the medicine of Messrs. Fall & McCracken, your agents in Lancaster, Pa.
